Request for Qualifications

I. Section 2.3.3: Licensure

- A. We have received several questions regarding the licensure requirements noted in Article 2.3.3 of the Request for Proposals. We offer the following clarification:

While it is our understanding that the SC LLR does not require licensing for demolition work, the Former Papermill Site and Breakbulk Facility have project elements that will require specialty contractors to perform work as a part of the selective demolition. The means and methods of the team will dictate some of the disciplines involved, so we will not name them directly; however, it is our intent that each contractor working on the project shall be properly licensed to perform their intended duties. The contractor shall also maintain proper business licenses for the municipality of the project site (City of North Charleston), as well as the final disposal or salvage locations, where applicable. The required licenses for this project do not have to be in place to submit a SOQ, but the intent to obtain the applicable license must be stated.

The licensure of the members of your team shall be covered in your SOQ response.
